Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 14 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and frosty overnight. Sunny on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Patchy cloud and some clear spells though the evening. Cloud tending to break overnight with long clear periods allowing temperatures to fall, with a widespread frost developing. Some isolated mist or freezing fog patches may also form. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Thursday:
A cold and frosty start giving way to a bright day with long periods of sunshine. Frosty again overnight with a small chance of mist or freezing fog patches. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Friday and Saturday will be generally sunny with temperatures around normal for mid-April. Turning a little cloudier and breezier from the north through Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.